What s It Made Of.Q: In what cases does mleap throw an error? MLEAP is a package which provides the ability to migrate from R to Python with the R interface to the scikit-learn ML algorithms. Since I am new to Python and just started using it. I am not able to find a documentation about in which cases, mleap will throw the error. For Example: Error in if (conditions$train$family$model[i] == 1) { : missing value where TRUE/FALSE needed Could anyone please help me understand the reason behind this error? A: This error occurred because it tried to make use of a scikit-learn dataframe for which there was not that many rows as the dimensions of the dataframe I loaded into it. In addition, I also had a vector
