so... the situation is like this. I am using Windows 7 Home Premium (Version 6.1 Build 7601) and I have an up to date UAC installed. I am trying to run sfseo on one of my web sites that is on a shared server. When i try to run it I always receive a blank screen. I can use the file from my computer when I try to run it directly from my machine but it won't work on the web server. The seo spider is in the path.. Is there a way to make it work on the server? or even to configure the settings. A: I tried many ways but the solution was easy. I don't know if it is the way but it is working and I had to make some changes in the settings.php and to avoid any problem i left the settings as default. But here is the tip, I copied the file sfseo.php from the sfseo folder to the root of the server and I removed the php and we are ready to go! And one last tip: The spider runs without problems on my win 7 pc. Overall guest ratings Review highlights Good to know Nearby About Hotel Groucho is a unique boutique hotel located in the historic neighborhood of Chapel Hill, where the American Gothic style of architecture has made this area a national historic district. Designed by the legendary architect W.C. Fields, the hotel opened as a boarding house for students studying at the nearby University of North Carolina in the 1920s, and retains many of the original features and traditions of a quality home away from home. Best hotel on the road for our family of 6. We enjoyed breakfast, appetizers and a steak. Even got a free bottle of wine! The room was clean and beautiful. Only 5 blocks from the University of North Carolina and 5 blocks from a shopping mall. Easy access to the highway. Bed was comfortable. The only downside was no computer, but ours was located just down the hall.
