 The Awakening of the Center Lingering deep within Eren's heart is the belief that he alone can restore the power of the Elden Ring.

As he believes to be the only one left who hasn't become corrupted by the horrors of the Dark Weight, Eren reflects deeply on his life. His army will have no hesitation in slaying the Titans to avenge their fallen friends, and his intense hatred towards them cannot be conquered. His chilling words alone, that he is the only one who can restore the power of the Elden Ring, ring loud and clear.

Для примера, есть форма: href="/form//?ref=1&value=1.5&value=2.0&value=4.0&value=3.5&value=5.0&submit=Загрузить" То есть не просто загружаемый домен, а таким же сайтом. Pre-9/11 Horror – The Birth of American Political Utopia One of the great things about our country (and I'm not just talking about NYC) is that we have our great opportunities. We have the best of everything. Amazing culture, amazing people. The first-ever supercomputer, the first TV show that became a hit, the first AIDS medication. Of course it would be better if we didn't have to experience any of those great things, but the world is what we make it. We all have the ability to do things that no one has ever done. It is this great feeling that fuels our country. Of course, it's made us soft and stupid. That last part, idiocy, is what fascinates me. No person has studied idiocy before. Take our current administration for example. Most of the time, you'll hear "BushCo" mentioned or "BushCheney" and maybe some pundits, but they are a part of our country; they are a part of our intelligence. And that's a positive thing. After all, half of the politicians aren't even that good. After BushCo leaves us, we are supposed to forget 9/11 and move on. Well if you move on, you better move aways or else that great feeling of being the land of opportunity will turn to ashes in your mouth, because our next president will be worse than BushCo. The Republican party will, once again, banish the middle to make us the conservative identity of a Christian Nation. It will convert Korea and start wars with Iran and North Korea. I am confident in their ability to make this happen, because, well they are idiots. After that, they might make more wars in various regions around the world
