Crackwindev1732et64bits

Can someone tell me if this is due to a bad knowledge of the command lines or to something else?

Thanks in advance. I am an absolute beginner with Linux/Unix. A: Perhaps you have too many processes not running? Try `top -b -p `pgrep aria2`` (run `top` with `-b` to avoid showing processes not related to `aria2`) and see if it shows more than 25 processes (`aria2`). If it does, use `kill -9` to end that process. If the problem happens every time `aria2` is running, you are probably using a package like `pdftk` that creates a process. (Check `aria2` process size: `aria2 --info`) `~/Downloads$ aria2 --info` Type :
download Download : 109 Size : 109 KB Peer : aria Peers : 0 Also, you might have a problem with your `/home/user/.bashrc` file or similar files since you are not using `root`. See if you have file permission issues (reload session). Q: How can I use this function for a `NamedParameterDcase` class

MWE: import org.apache.spark.ml.ParamMap import org.apache.spark.ml.attribute.{AttributeTransformer, NamedAttributeTransformer} case class Planet( name: String, distanceToSun: Double, diameter: Double, orbit: Double, surfaceArea: Double ) object Main extends App { def transformer(attribute:String, value:String): ParamMap = { ParamMap.fromAttributes(NamedAttributeTransformer.attributeToString, "", (value,result) => { result(attribute) = value }) } def main(args: Array[String]): Unit = { 6d1f23a050
